

DIGITHEAD

From simple switches and cables to complex networking components...

Capabilities Statement

Who We Are:

DigitHead was founded by two former employees of a large data communications catalog distributor. They took their knowledge of the industry and developed a model to provide the same high quality product solutions at a fraction of the cost. Although, DigitHead's niche market is to provide value-added networking components at a significant cost savings and fast turn-around to OEMs and System Integrators, we regularly supply standard products as well.
